

More and Less

We mentioned the more command as a legacy command to the less command.

less command will page through the file, so that you can read it piece by piece, without writing it all out to the terminal.

$ less filename

g key will get you to the beginning of the file and the Shift + g will get you to the end.

You can also search for strings by typing / followed by a wanted string. Then you can navigate the highlighted matches with n.

h key will get you to the help page.
