

Moving Files

You can move files with the mv command.

```
$ mv file Documents/
```

This command will move the file to the Documents/ directory. You can also provide a new name for the moved file, but you don't have to.

If you move a file from and to the same directory, the file will be renamed. You can also move directories in the same way.